PROFILE

Hello! My name is Caitlin and I'm a Front-End Web Developer. I always strive to write clean, semantic code in order to create awesome websites. I have a thirst for knowledge and I'm always up for a challenge.

Now that I've finished HackerYou's Front-End Web Development Immersive, I'm looking to join a great team where I can work on a variety of projects, collaborate with like-minded developers and designers, and continue to expand my knowledge and hone my skills.
